PRESIDENT'S REPORT

The Association's activities over the past year have focussed largely on problems raised by possible changes at SSHRCC and by the change in government in Ottawa. While your Association has also launched new initiatives--thanks to the hard work of many of our members--we have had to make numerous expressions of concern, opposition, and support for measures others are contemplating, measures that will affect all political scientists in Canada.

The change implied in the victory of the PC government has led to a number of concerns. The most important is the level of SSHRCC funding over the next few years. Despite PC electoral commitments to increase the funding for R & D, including the social sciences, the current emphasis on budget restraint does not leave much room for optimism. The SSHRCC has prepared a five-year programme which has been submitted to the government. While all of us may not agree entirely with the priorities of the Council, in general we share its concern about the long-run decline in research funding. One of our primary tasks during the year has been to try to generate support for the SSHRCC proposal. In tandem with the vigorous efforts of the Social Science Federation your Association has written and will continue to write letters to those key people in Ottawa who will be making the critical decisions on levels of funding for the SSHRCC. Last year's SSFC-led lobbying effort on behalf of social scientists paid off with increasing commitments from the Liberals. We hope to be even more successful this time around.

A second area of concern has been the research grants policies of the SSHRCC. In October 1983, your Board approved the Chandler-McRoberts report; this study, which outlines the Association's priorities for research funding, has been forwarded to the Council. The report is being revised in light of some new developments, particularly the Council's apparent concern with the principle of peer review and the methods of research grant appraisal. The Board of Directors at its November 1984 meetings endorsed a statement strongly supporting the continued application of peer review in Council decision-making. That statement was initially drafted by David Elkins (UBC) and you will have read it in your March 31 "Bulletin."

In December 1984, we received an invitation from the SSHRCC-organized Crocker Committee (Special Committee on Research Grants) to comment on a variety of issues relating to research funding. Unfortunately, the Association was given only a few weeks to reply to complicated questions about SSHRCC principles and practices. Since the Board of Directors could not meet, we submitted to the Committee our previously-stated positions on research priorities and peer review.

Originally, the Crocker Committee hoped to make its recommendations to the Council by May. It appears now that this deadline cannot be met. Hence, we will have an opportunity during our deliberations at the Learned's to discuss many of the issues raised in the Crocker Committee's terms of reference. We will have a revised version of the Chandler-McRoberts report, including elaboration of previous statements on peer review, research priorities, and the like. It appears, then, that we as an Association will be able to take a strong stand on issues that will affect us as researchers. Our timing may not be so unfortunate after all.

In discussing problems arising from the new government and from the internal reviews of the SSHRCC, I should emphasize the tremendous help we are receiving from the Social Science Federation. This organization has taken the lead in responding to critical new circumstances and, in general, has developed thoughtful positions on a variety of issues. Our profession has been well-served by the revitalized SSFC; and where we could not, because of timing problems, always act (the President cannot pass off his opinions on some key issues as representative of the entire Association!), the Federation has promptly developed persuasive positions.

THE MEMBERSHIP QUESTION

While the long-range funding prospects of the Association remain in the hands of a new government, we cannot sit back and wait for government decisions. As administrative support from the SSHRCC appears to be increasingly determined by numbers rather than by the range and excellence of programmes sponsored and organized by scholarly associations, our long-term health will depend ultimately upon the size of our membership. Here we face a matter of grave concern. Over the past year, we have lost some 100 members, leaving a total of around 1200. This figure includes membership in the Société--which, incidentally, has actually increased its own numbers. While Joan has done a great job in keeping costs to a minimum, and while we have a slight surplus this year, we cannot continue losing members. Martha Fletcher's committee on membership will produce some ideas to recoup our losses--and to expand our clientele--but this is surely an area where each member of the Association can make an important contribution by encouraging colleagues who are not presently members, graduate students, and other persons interested to join.

Compared to most scholarly groups, we provide a range of activities and services which benefit everyone from graduate students to emeriti. Travel funds for the Learned's, International Workshops, the new Directory of Canadian Political Scientists, the Essex programme, PIP, OLIP, our Journal and "The Bulletin", numerous interventions to the SSHRCC and government on your behalf--all of these and many more come from the annual membership fee. I know of no other academic association that does so much for so little. This part of the report must necessarily be a plea. I hope you will respond.

CANADIAN JOURNAL OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

The new anglophone editorial team has completed its first year. Bob Boardman and Herman Bakvis (Dalhousie) and Grace Skogstad (St. Francis-Xavier) have demonstrated that the transition from the prairies was smooth, and that they have maintained the traditional high standards of the publication. Grace has been in Ottawa on a sabbatical year. Working out of the CPSA offices, she has offered encouragement and a source of wise counsel to the day-to-day functioning of the Secretariat. The staff has very much enjoyed having her there!

Nos remerciements aussi à Jean Crête (Laval), co-directeur, et à Graciela Ducantzenzeiler (Montréal), secrétaire à la rédaction et responsable des recensions. Bienvenue à François-Pierre Gingras (Ottawa) et Lucille Beaudry (UOAM) les nouveaux rédacteurs francophones. Il me plaît beaucoup que la première "orientation de la science politique" en français a été publiée dans le Rcsp numéro de décembre 1984. To John McMenemy, CJPS Managing Editor, our continued thanks. Our Association benefits in untold ways from John's penchant for punishment, and from his infinite patience. Few have served the CPSA so long and so well.

"THE BULLETIN"

Allan Tupper has graciously agreed to begin a second term. "The Bulletin", which has gone through many transformations, is an essential instrument for communicating among ourselves. Allan has regularized its appearance and format and has established a solid network of departmental representatives with the consequence that our members can feel confident they are up to date on the important issues before the Association, on new opportunities and, of course, on a little gossip.

LA SOCIÉTÉ QUÉBÉCOISE DE SCIENCE POLITIQUE

The brevity of the comment indicates the truth to the adage that no news is good news. Thanks to the negotiations that led to the Agreement/accord with la Société, signed in January 1984, our relations have entered a new era of cordiality, cooperation, and collaboration.

PROGRAMME COMMITTEE

One of my first tasks as President-elect was to select someone to chair the 1985 Programme Committee. I immediately turned to André Bernard (UQAM) who in previous years had served the Association so diligently. Whatever my judgement on other matters, this one was correct. André and his committee have worked hard to organize this year's meetings. Having attended André's first organizing session in Guelph last year, I was impressed by his early efforts to collect the committee and by his emphasis on rigorous procedures--including deadlines. We are all very grateful to André and his associates for organizing what I hope will be the biggest and the best. I should add, also, that thanks to the collaboration between André, Fred Fletcher (York) and Michael Atkinson (McMaster)--all former Chairs of the programme committee--we will soon have a handbook for future chairpersons. This should relieve some of the pressures for this important position, and provide new incumbents with helpful hints from their predecessors.

STATE OF THE ART SEMINAR

This year's meeting of department heads was graciously hosted by Bishop's University. Andrew F. Johnson did an excellent job in organizing our sessions and providing hospitality. The meetings were, as usual, very useful. We had an opportunity to go over the new Qualman (Laval) Report which continues the work of providing statistics on political science enrolments across Canada. These figures give a good profile of our teaching problems and prospects, and can be used to good purpose by, for example, department heads wishing to extract more funds from recalcitrant deans! The figures certainly belie the often-heard assertion that undergraduates are flocking to the professional faculties. The Qualman report will (as was its predecessor) continue to be updated each year, and modifications are being worked out to make it an even more important source of data about our undergraduate activities. We are all indebted to Harry and the persons assisting him at Laval for this most important project.

The meetings this year welcomed several interesting guests: Ted Skaperdas from Marionopolis College, to speak to the chairpersons about the teaching of political science at the community college level; Professor William Culver (SUNY), to describe the chairpersons group at the APSA; and Professor Pierre Patenaude from the Faculté de droit at l'université de Sherbrooke, to talk about the teaching of political science in institutions like his own where it does not have a separate faculty status.

We also discussed matters relating to financial restraints at universities (focusing on Henry Jacek's (McMaster) creative accounting techniques!); the role of the chairperson; new positions available in the field, and so on. Although we were unable to obtain an SSHRC grant for our meeting, the universities and departments provided the funds to permit more than 30 chairpersons to attend.

INTERNSHIPS PROGRAMMES

As your President, I had the pleasure of attending the annual dinner for the Parliamentary Internships programme at the House of Commons restaurant. A short address to 200 tycoons and politicians was a daunting experience, but in my discussion with MPs and interns, I was able to reinforce my previous impression of how very important this programme is, not only for the students, but for our profession as a whole. The comments I heard were very enthusiastic. Donors and recipients alike acknowledged readily the benefits of the PIP. The internships provide not only excellent training and education, but also open doors for subsequent careers. I was very pleased to meet former students of mine, now graduates of PIP, holding important and impressive positions in a variety of fields. The accolades I heard for PIP Director Bob Jackson (Carleton), were numerous. He has done an outstanding job with the programme and I am pleased to express our gratitude publicly. Michael Atkinson (McMaster) will be the CPSA representative, other than the Programme Director, to the Selection Committee. You will note that a new pattern has evolved: the Board and the Programme have agreed to the principle of regional rotation of this function. We are grateful to Agar Adamson for having filled it for 84/85 and to Barry Cooper (Calgary) for 83/84.

What Bob has done at the Federal level is repeated in the other such programme we sponsor: The Ontario Legislature Internships Programme. Fred Fletcher (York) has agreed to serve a second three-year term as Director. The Board's request that he stay on was an easy decision to arrive at: Fred has done an excellent job and has had particular success this year in raising funds in the private sector, in expanding the number of interns, and in providing them with a most enriching experience. This vitality of the two internships programmes is rewarding to all of us: as departments face increasingly difficult financial restraints, as tuition fees increase, and as prospects of academic employment are anything but bright, at least in this area our Directors have been able to move ahead.

CONSTITUTIONAL PROCEDURES

All associations occasionally have to adjust their procedures to changing conditions and new challenges. Your Board of Directors at its November 1984 meeting voted to tidy up our rather cumbersome practices with regard to major appointments. We found that some people had three year terms, some four, some one, and some other variations. The question of reappointments was also irregular. The Board decided that in future all major appointments will be for a three-year term, with an extension of a further three years if agreeable to both parties. After six years, the Executive will establish or act as a review committee to assess the needs of the position and to make a new appointment. Incumbents will not be disqualified from reapplying.

A Committee (Chair: Ken Carty, UBC; Jean-Pierre Gaboury, Ottawa; and Don Smiley, York) is also considering some changes to our Constitution. Particularly, it is working on the appointments procedures described there, to bring them into line with practice but it has been asked to take a hard look at the whole document with an eye, for example, to revising text and in general "cleaning up" what the years have put out of order.

For the past several years, the CPSA has paid an independent scrutineer to count the election ballots for annual elections. This method has proved to be not only a bit costly, but unsatisfactory in some other ways. The Constitutional Committee will recommend on how to proceed but your Executive has, in the meantime, drafted one of our past presidents to carry out this task. In this way we have forced Don Smiley into his first foray into electoral studies and we can now add "political behaviourist" to Don's c.v.!

OBSERVATIONS AND GRATITUDES

It may take some time for an incoming president to learn all the intricacies of an association such as ours. But two things become immediately apparent: the CPSA is involved in an incredibly broad variety of activities; and it cannot operate without the active participation and assistance of members of our profession. I have been very pleased that everytime I have asked someone to take on a task, the response invariably has been positive and enthusiastic. Our membership of over 1000 owes an immense debt of gratitude to the people who man our committees, who take on little and great chores, who lobby on our behalf and, in some cases, who provide organizational and intellectual leadership for all the social sciences. Ed Black (Queen's) and our past president, Caroline Andrew (Ottawa), continue to serve us in many ways. I am particularly grateful to Caroline who was able to step in for me at two meetings of the Social Science Federation. She has been an unusually active past president.

Annually we acknowledge our thanks to Joan Pond. This is a particular pleasure; our association has benefited immensely from Joan's initiative, expertise, tact, and remarkable competence. In its wisdom, your Board of Directors, not content with mere expressions of gratitude, has voted at the IPSA's suggestion, to help fund Joan's trip to their meetings in Paris this July. We are also grateful to Shelley Berezin, who is now on maternity leave, and to Rachel Desjardins, both of whom help run--and in good humour--what is an excellent headquarters. To the members of the constitutional, liaison, nominating, programme, and PIP selection committees, my sincere thanks for your work and help during the past year.

Finally, a word of special thanks to outgoing Past President, Caroline Andrew, whose three years on the Executive have been ones of extraordinary service to the Association.

Our Association is unique among the learned societies. While we have problems on the horizon, I am certain that with the kind of assistance and counsel available to help in running the organization, we will continue to provide a unique range of services and programmes for our members and for students. My best wishes go, finally, to Fred Engelmann, who will soon get to savour the secrets and intricacies of the CPSA. It has been an informative, fun and informative year. My thanks to all of those already mentioned, and to many others who have helped out.

ANNUAL REPORTS*

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE INTERNSHIP PROGRAMME

STAGES PARLEMENTAIRES A L'ASSEMBLY LEGISLATIVE DE L'ONTARIO

1. For 1985-86, Bell Canada and ManuLife will continue as corporate sponsors of the Programme. Each provides an annual donation of $5,000, used to fund seminars and exchange visits. Xerox of Canada joined our group of corporate sponsors for 1984-85 with a donation of $1,000. In 1984-85, the Programme also received a donation of $1,000 from the Jackman Foundation and a personal donation from Mr. Bart Watt, President of the Churchill Society. The Institute for Political Involvement has been kind enough to assist us in our fund-raising and a number of organizations are currently considering our requests. The Programme will continue in 1985-86 to try to broaden its base of corporate support in order to increase the number of interns from eight to ten.
2. The Programme continues to receive its primary funding from the Ontario Legislative Assembly. Because of the May 2 election, the Board of Internal Economy has not at this writing considered our budget for 1985-86. However, we have been authorized by the Director of Administration to proceed with the appointment of interns for 1985-86. The budget request involves a modest increase to cover rising costs in some answers and a small expense account for interns. The stipend is to remain at $11,000 ($1100 per month for the period September 1 to June 30) for eight interns. The Assembly grant covers the stipends and related administrative costs for the interns, plus funds for an annual constituency visit. The external funding pays for exchange visits and seminars.
3. The administration of the Programme changed in 1984, with the departure of Dr. Graham White from the Clerk's Office of the Assembly to the Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto. A former intern, he had been Legislative Co-ordinator since 1982. His contribution over the past three years has been great and I was fortunate to persuade him to assist me with the academic side of the Programme--for a modest stipend--in 1984-85. Barbara Cameron of York University continued to assist most ably with the fund-raising. At the Legislature, the Co-ordinators were Douglas Arnott of the Clerk's Office (a former intern), John Eichmanis, a political scientist employed by the Legislative Research Service, and Ellen Schoenberg, Personnel Officer of the Assembly.
4. In 1984-85, the Ontario interns have visited Parliament, the Quebec National Assembly and the California State Legislature. The annual visit to the Legislatures of Alberta and B.C. is scheduled for May. Each of these visits has involved three intensive days of seminars with senior public officials, journalists, academics, and others with specialized knowledge of the legislature and its political environment. The Ontario interns have also hosted the Parliamentary interns at Queen's Park and are expecting visits from the Quebec and B.C. groups. In addition, the 1984-85 interns have continued the active programme of seminars begun in 1983-84, seeing a wide range of public officials and interest group representatives, as well as Assembly officials and politicians. By June 30, they will have had more than 50 such seminars, not to mention the seminars on the exchange visits. The interns were also fortunate to be able to attend the Progressive Conservative leadership convention and to participate in the 1985 election campaign. Nevertheless, their major activity has remained the day-to-day work for the MPPs, most of whom make an active effort to include their interns in a full range of legislative activities.

5. The experiment of permitting interns to work for Parliamentary Assistants, announced in the annual report for 1983, has been made permanent. The work of the interns has remained focussed on the Legislature and government backbenchers have continued to compete successfully for interns.

6. The assignments for 1984-85 were:

Beth Arnott, University of Windsor (Public Administration)
David Rotenberg (PC--Wilson Heights)
Murray Elston (LIB--Huron Bruce)

David Docherty, Wilfrid Laurier (Political Science)
Richard Allen (NDP--Hamilton West)
Richard Treleaven (PC--Oxford)

Marilyn Domagalski, MPA, Carleton (Public Administration)
Don Cousens (PC--York Centre)
Sean Conway (LIB--Renfrew North)

Catherine Fooks, Trent; M.A., Queen's (Political Studies)
Phil Gillies (PC--Brantford)
Richard Johnston (NDP--Scarborough West)

Ronald Hoffman, University of Manitoba (Political Science)
Jim Bradley (LIB--St. Catherines)
Bill Barlow (PC--Cambridge)

Joydeep Mukherji, University of Toronto (Economics)
James McGuigan (LIB--Kent-Elgin)
Ross Stevenson (PC--Durham York)

Tim Welch, Brock; M.A., Carleton (Political Science)
Rene Piche (PC--Cochrane North)
Brian Charlton (NDP--Hamilton Mountain)

Michael Yeo, York; M.A., McMaster (Philosophy)
Odoardo Di Santo (NDP--Downsview)
Bob MacQuarrie (PC--Carleton East)*

7. The selection committee for 1984-85 consisted of the Academic Director, Douglas Arnott and John Eichmanis from the Legislature, a serving intern (Beth Arnott) and two CPSA representatives (Professors Graham White, University of Toronto, and Richard Price, University of Windsor). More than 160 completed applications were received (an increase of 60 over 1984), representing a wide range of institutions in Ontario and across the country. The quality of applications was very high and the committee found the selection process even more difficult than usual.

8. The interns for 1985-86 will be:

Marya Duckworth, Toronto, Ont., LL.B., Osgoode Hall Law School, York University, 1984

Patrick Fafard, Edmonton, Alberta, B.A. (Honours), Political Science, University of Alberta, 1982; M.A., Political Science, York University, 1985

Ruth Flynn-Fletcher, Sarnia, Ont., B.A. (Honours), Political Science, 1983; M.A., Political Science, University of Western Ontario

Stephen Glass, Sudbury, Ont., B.A. (Honours), Political Science, Laurentian University, 1985

Mary Kirley, Toronto, Ont., B.A. (Honours), Public Administration, University of Windsor, 1985

David McLennan, London, Ont., B.A. (Honours), History, 1983; LL.B. in progress, University of Western Ontario

Cheryl Parry, Smith Falls, Ont., B.A. (Honours), Political Science, Queen's University, 1983; M.P.M., University of Alberta, 1985

Monika Turner, Toronto, Ont., B.A. (Honours), Anthropology, 1981; M.A., Anthropology, McMaster, 1985

10. In 1983-84, the Programme continued to benefit from the enthusiastic support of the MPPs and officials of the Assembly. Among those deserving special thanks are the Hon. John Turner, Speaker of the Ontario Legislative Assembly, Mr. Roderick Lewis, Q.C., Clerk of the House, and Mr. Robert Fleming, the Administrator of the Assembly. The Programme also received noteworthy assistance from the Clerk's Office at the Assembly and from York University, which donated office space and other services. The support from ManuLife, Bell Canada, and Xerox Canada and the Jackman Foundation was invaluable and we are grateful to the Canadian Life and Health Insurance Association for assisting us with a reception for the PIP interns. I would like to express my personal gratitude to Graham White, Barbara Cameron and Phyllis Feldman, the Programme secretary, Douglas Arnott, John Eichmanis, Ellen Schoenberger for their fine work, as well as to Joan Pond and the CPSA staff for their support. The interns themselves also deserve special mention for their organizational and fund-raising efforts.

FRED FLETCHER
Academic Director

* Mr. MacQuarrie was defeated in the May 2 election; a new assignment is pending.

PARLIAMENTARY INTERNSHIP PROGRAMME - ANNUAL REPORT 1984-85

The Programme continued to receive its primary funding from the Canadian Life and Health Insurance Association and the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada. While the poor health of the economy has resulted in the loss of a large number of sponsors, others have been secured to ensure the programme's funding for at least 1985-86.

As in previous years, the Parliamentary Interns visited the Ontario Legislature, the Quebec National Assembly, the U.S. Congress and will be visiting the British and German Parliaments during June. The Parliamentary Interns have hosted visits by the Ontario, Quebec and Alberta Interns and the U.S. Congressional Fellows.

Following is a list of Interns and their allocations for the 1984-85 programme:

France Benoit
Keith Penner (LIB--Cochrane-Superior)
Stan Schellenberger (PC--Wetaskiwin)

Margaret Bourgeault
Mary Collins (PC--Capilano)
Doug Frith (LIB--Sudbury)

Heather Conway
Tom Hockin (PC--London West)
Donald Johnston (LIB--St. Henri-Westmount)

Ariel Delouya
David Kilgour (PC--Edmonton-Strathcona)
Lloyd Axworthy (LIB--Winnipeg-Fort Garry)

Susan Henders
Brian Tobin (LIB--Humber P. sur P. St. Barbe)
Patrick Boyer (PC--Etobicoke-Lakeshore)

Mario Iacobacci
Stewart McInnes (PC--Halifax)
Steve Langdon (NDP--Essex-Windsor)

Pierre Lavallee
Nelson Riis (NDP--Kamloops-Shuswap)
William Winegard (PC--Guelph)

Kathryn McDade
Lee Clark (PC--Brandon-Souris)
Michael Cassidy (NDP--Ottawa Center)

Maureen Mancuso
Jean Chretien (LIB--St. Maurice)
James McGrath (PC--St. John's East)

Dennis Marinakis
Svend Robinson (NDP--Burnaby)
Jean Charest (PC--Sherbrooke)

The 1985-86 Interns were chosen by the PIP Selection Committee. This year's committee comprised: C. Archibald, University of Ottawa (representing I'SQSP); M. Atkinson, McMaster University (representing CPSA); J. Garcea, former Intern 1983-84; M. Pelletier, Law Clerk and Parliamentary Counsel and Robert J. Jackson, director of PIP. Interest in the programme remains high. 318 application requests were received; 155 applied. The breakdown of applicants according to age, sex, provincial residence, degree, subject and university is available from the PIP office.

The following candidates have been offered internships for 1985-86:

Barbara Arneil, Nelson, B.C., M.Sc. (Political Theory) London School of Economics, 1984; B.A. (Political Science) University of Victoria, 1983

Line Chenard, Mattawa, Ontario, M.A. (Political Science) University of Ottawa, expected 1985; B.S.S. (Political Science) University of Ottawa, 1984

Bradford Christakos, Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, B.A. (Administration) University of Toronto, expected 1985

Shelley Gilmour, Toronto, Ontario, Honours B.A. (Political Science) McMaster University, expected 1985

Michael Kaczorowski, Guelph, Ontario, M.A. (Political Science) Guelph University, expected 1985; Honours B.A. (Political Science) Guelph University, 1984

Denis Robert, Dolbeau, Quebec, M.Sc. (Political Science) University of Montreal, expected 1986; B.A. (Political Science) Universite Laval, 1983

Michel Sarra-Bournet, Plessisville, Quebec, M.A. (History) Universite de Sherbrooke, expected 1985; B.A. (Political Science) Universite Laval, 1983

Paul Shuttle, Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, M.A. (Political Science) University of Saskatchewan, expected 1985; Candidatus Magisterii (Political Science/English, Linguistics) University of Oslo, Norway, 1984

Leslie Toope, St. John's Newfoundland, M.A. (Political Science) Carleton University, expected 1985; Honours B.A. (Political Science) Memorial University, 1984

Lyle Young, Kincaid, Saskatchewan, M.A. (Political Science) University of Saskatchewan, expected 1985; B. Music, Ball State University, Muncie, Indiana, 1981

As in 1983-84, the British High Commission made available educational scholarships to Interns. Past and present Interns were eligible for these awards. These scholarships allow Interns to spend a maximum of 2 years full-time study at a British University or similar institution. Selection of the recipients of the scholarships were made by a joint committee consisting of members of the PIP Policy Committee and representatives of the British High Commission.

The following Interns were awarded scholarships:

France Benoit
Heather Conway
Maureen Mancuso

SOCIAL SCIENCE FEDERATION OF CANADA

The Social Science Federation of Canada has been increasingly concentrating its energies on lobbying. In the fall of 1984, it was one of several groups that formed the "Ottawa Consortium" which organized a lobby among the newly elected Conservative MPs in order to familiarize them with the issues of research and development, the financing of post-secondary education and the funding of the research councils. This effort has been continued by the Federation through meetings with individual MPs and regional caucus groups. These meetings are very important if we want to convince the government that spending on research and development, the funding of the granting councils and specifically the budget of the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council must be increased. This spring the Federation is once again engaged in a lobbying process, related to the federal budget process, and aimed at convincing the federal government to increase the SSHRCC budget.

Ce genre de travail prend beaucoup de temps et d'énergie mais il est extrêmement important pour nous. Sans effort de lobbying, il est beaucoup plus probable que le budget du conseil de recherches en sciences humaines du Canada sera coupé. D'autres groupes dans la société--les facultés de médecine par exemple--ont monté des campagnes de lobbying très efficaces et le gouvernement a été influencé par ces campagnes. Depuis quelques années l'Association canadienne de science politique a encouragé la Fédération d'accroître ses efforts dans le domaine du lobbying et je crois que les activités de cette année correspondent bien à nos souhaits.

This concentration of the Federation's activities in the area of lobbying corresponds to what several of its members, including the CPSA, have urged recently. It also corresponds with financial necessity as the Federation's own budget has been reduced. Suggestions for economy measures and for proposals to restructure the SSFC so as to run a more efficient and effective operation have been widely discussed this year and these two will lead, I believe, to greater concentration on lobbying. The work of the Federation has been very useful this year. In a period when Ottawa seems increasingly concerned with cutting its expenditures we must make our case forcefully for social science research.

L'ACSP ET LA COMMISSION CANADIENNE POUR
L'UNESCO, 1984-1985

L'Unesco est la seule organisation inter-gouvernementale pour laquelle les sciences sociales sont un secteur explicite et majeur d'activité. Le Canada a d'ailleurs joué un rôle très actif dans la mise sur pied d'un secteur distinct pour les sciences sociales à l'Unesco en 1976. Dans le domaine des sciences sociales, l'Unesco a pour objectif de contribuer à renforcer les institutions et à mettre en pratique les connaissances théoriques. Ses programmes sont organisés autour de trois axes. Le premier vise à renforcer le potentiel national de recherche en élaborant des activités de formation et de recherche, particulièrement au niveau universitaire et postérieur. Ceci se réalise dans le cadre d'une coopération générale. Le second axe cherche à consolider le rôle de la recherche comme instrument de planification et à contribuer à la mise au point d'indicateurs socio-économiques du développement et de méthodes d'évaluation de programme. Le troisième axe s'attache à la pertinence des sciences sociales relativement aux problèmes mondiaux du développement, de la population, de l'environnement et des droits de l'homme.

Au Canada, la Commission canadienne pour l'Unesco a constitué un Comité consultatif de sciences sociales dont le mandat est de conseiller la Commission quant à la participation canadienne à la formulation des programmes de sciences sociales de l'Unesco et à la mise en oeuvre de ces programmes. Le Comité est composé d'une douzaine de personnes de divers secteurs des sciences sociales et il s'est réuni au mois de juin 1984. En réponse à une demande d'avis sur le projet de programme 1986-1987, le Comité a réaffirmé les priorités qu'il avait énoncées l'année précédente (voir le Bulletin de l'ACSP de décembre 1983) puisque le projet de programme 1986-1987 est la seconde tranche du Programme à moyen terme 1984-1989 et puisque le Comité estime que ces parties du Programme ne sont pas entièrement réalisées. Ces priorités sont les suivantes: recherche, formation et coopération régionale et internationale dans le domaine des sciences sociales et humaines et en particulier dans quelques domaines clés; étude et planification du développement; étude et amélioration des rapports entre la science, la technologie et la société; systèmes urbains et urbanisation; élimination de la discrimination fondée sur le sexe.

Quant à la participation à la mise en oeuvre des programmes de sciences sociales de l'Unesco, il s'agit de faire connaître ces programmes au Canada, d'identifier les personnes ou les institutions qui pourraient y être intéressées et de les mettre en relation avec l'Unesco. Le budget de l'Unesco sert à faciliter la mise au point de projets de recherche (mais non à faire la recherche elle-même), le transfert des connaissances et la circulation de l'information. C'est ainsi qu'une part importante des fonds de l'Unesco est utilisée pour réunir des experts. Ces rencontres sont probablement, avec l'information, le bénéfice le plus immédiat que peuvent retirer les chercheurs canadiens en sciences sociales des programmes de l'Unesco. Les rencontres peuvent aboutir à la participation à des projets conjoints internationaux ou à des contrats avec l'Unesco.

Cependant ces programmes de l'Unesco peuvent souffrir de la situation de crise dans laquelle se trouve présentement l'Organisation. Le départ des Etats-Unis à la fin de 1984 provoque une réduction importante (25%) du budget de l'Unesco alors que la Grande-Bretagne annonce elle aussi son retrait prochain. Les autres principaux contributeurs procèdent, pour leur part, à une évaluation approfondie de leur participation et de l'Organisation elle-même. C'est dans le cadre de cette évaluation qu'une importante campagne d'appui au maintien de la participation du Canada à l'Unesco s'est développée dans tout le pays. Kal J. Holsti, le président de l'ACSP, a joint la voix de l'Association à cette campagne en écrivant à l'honorable Joe Clark le 30 novembre 1984. La probabilité de restrictions budgétaires importantes demeure toutefois élevée et le secteur des sciences sociales demeure vulnérable à côté de secteurs bien établis comme ceux de l'éducation ou des sciences naturelles. De plus, le gouvernement fédéral canadien à lui-même imposé des coupures budgétaires à ses ministères et organismes. Ces coupures affectent la Commission canadienne pour l'Unesco dont le budget est fourni par le Conseil des Arts. Les spécialistes des sciences sociales doivent donc demeurer vigilants.

Par ailleurs, la 26ième Assemblée annuelle de la Commission canadienne pour l'Unesco s'est tenue à Saint-Jean, Terre-Neuve, en juin 1984. On y a étudié le thème: la zone côtière Atlantique et son influence sur le développement des collectivités. Divers conférenciers ont traité de l'aménagement rationnel, d'un aménagement qui soit fait avec soin et d'une manière multidisciplinaire qui associe à la fois les sciences exactes, les sciences de la vie et les sciences sociales, et, d'un aménagement qui laisse place au dialogue constant avec les collectivités littorales.

Enfin, depuis le mois d'août 1984, le professeur Anne Whyte de l'Université de Toronto assume le poste de spécialiste de programme de secrétariat du Programme intergouvernemental sur l'homme et la biosphère (MAB) au sein du Secrétariat de l'Unesco. Créé afin d'assurer une meilleure coordination des activités à la jonction des sciences sociales et naturelles, ce poste permettra à Madame Whyte de promouvoir les sciences sociales à l'intérieur des activités du MAB, aux niveaux national et international, de même que dans le programme de l'Unesco.

On peut obtenir de la Commission canadienne pour l'Unesco (255, rue Albert, C.P. 1047, Ottawa, K1P 5V8) toute information sur ses activités et sur les programmes de l'Unesco

REPORT OF THE CO-EDITORS OF THE CANADIAN JOURNAL OF POLITICAL SCIENCE / REVUE CANADIENNE DE SCIENCE POLITIQUE
FOR THE PERIOD JANUARY 1, 1984 TO DECEMBER 31, 1984*

*(Supporting tables (I-IV) are appended to the Bulletin.)

There were 87 manuscripts submitted to the Journal/Review last year. This marked a decrease of 20 compared with the number received in 1983. Of the 87 papers submitted in 1984, 69 were in English and 18 in French. The figures for 1983 were 82 and 25 respectively. Volume XVII (1984) had a total of 887 pages, of which 558 were English-language and 150 French-language articles, notes, comments/replies and field analyses. The remaining pages were devoted to book reviews, notices, advertisements and the annual index. The average turnaround time was 60.5 days (English) and 67 days (French). These figures represent an increase over 1983 (50.5 and 58 days for English and French manuscripts respectively), but still compare favourably with those of other major journals in our discipline: the American Political Science Review, for example, had a turnaround time of 89 days in 1982/83, the last year for which figures are still available. Tables I, II, and III summarize the facts relating to the French and English manuscripts received and published during 1984 by the CJPS/Rcsp. Table IV presents the 1984 data in a four-year comparative context.

During the summer of 1984 the English-language side of the Journal/Review made a successful transition from Saskatoon to Halifax. The new editorial members have since been learning the ropes, and benefited greatly from the skill and hard work which John Courtney and Duff Spafford put into ensuring an almost trouble-free transition. Thanks, too, to John McMenemy for shedding much light on the inner mysteries of the workings of the publication process. The CPSA and the SSHRC have continued to be strong in their support of the operations of the Journal/Revue, and the new editorial team on the English-language side has come to appreciate just how much depends on the efforts of the members of the Advisory Board and of the many anonymous reviewers who devote time and energy to the evaluation of manuscripts.

La collectivité des politologues francophones doit un fier remerciement à Jean Crête qui s'est dévoué au service de la Revue, d'abord à titre de responsable des recensions (1980-1981) puis de codirecteur, de 1982 jusqu'à la fin de 1984. Au premier janvier 1985 François-Pierre Gingras (Ottawa) remplace Jean Crête comme codirecteur francophone de La Revue. En même date, Lucille Beaudry a été nommé secrétaire à la rédaction et responsable des recensions rôle joué par Gracida Ducanenzaler. Le codirecteur actuel, François-Pierre Gingras, lui sait particulièrement gré d'avoir favorisé une transition sans anicroche. Comme toujours depuis 1976, John McMenemy, aux presses de la Wilfrid Laurier University, continue d'assurer une production efficace et presque impeccable de la Revue.

MINUTES - ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING

THE CANADIAN POLITICAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION

University of Guelph, June 10, 11, 12, 1984

1. President's Welcome

President Caroline Andrew welcomed those attending the meeting.

One of the largest groups in the recent history of the Presidential Address and the subsequent Annual General Meeting was present to hear Professor John Meisel (Queen's), former president of the Association, rise before the beginning of the formal agenda to express the Association's regret at the passing of its distinguished recent Past-President, Professor Walter D. Young, of the University of Victoria.

MOTION: John Meisel/Edwin R. Black Carried unanimously

That the Canadian Political Science Association notes with a profound sense of loss the death of its former President, Walter D. Young, and that, in expressing its sympathy to his family, the Association wishes to convey the members' abiding respect for his inspiring contribution to Canadian political science.

Professor Meisel reminded the membership of the funds established at the institutions where they had taught to Professor Young and Professor Roberta McKown (Alberta), whose memory the meeting also mourned.

2. Approval of Agenda

It was agreed to move items 10 and 11 forward to follow item 5.

MOTION: O.P. Dwivedi/Frederick C. Engelmann Carried

That the agenda be amended as adopted.

3. Approval of the 1983 Minutes

MOTION: P.J. Smith/Agar Adamson Carried

That the Minutes of the 1983 meeting be approved as presented.

4. Business Arising

There being no business arising, the meeting proceeded to item 5.

5. Report of the President of the Nominating Committee

Professor Holsti, in his role as President of the Nominating Committee, read into the record the results of the 1984 election of officers:

President-Elect (by acclamation): Frederick C. Engelmann (Alberta)

Members-at-large, Board of Directors:

Barry Cooper (Calgary)
Martha Fletcher (Government of Ontario)
Jean-Pierre Gaboury (Ottawa)
Alex Macleod (UOAM)
Harald von Riekhoff (Carleton)

Professor Holsti, to the warm applause of the meeting, congratulated those elected and thanked outgoing Board members: Past-President, Edwin R. Black and members-at-large Jean-Guy Finn, Roger Gibbins, William P. Irvine, Liisa North, Reg Whitaker.

10. Report: Ontario Legislature Internships Programme

Professor Fred Fletcher (York), Director of OLIP, referred the meeting to his annual report as it appeared in "The Bulletin". He highlighted the good-functioning of the programme and particularly thanked colleagues for encouraging good students to apply and for writing in support of them. Professor Fletcher noted the important contribution that Barbara Cameron (York) was making in the area of fundraising in the private sector. He noted Graham White's appointment to the faculty at the University of Toronto, appreciating the helpfulness of Professor White while he had been working at the Legislature. Professor Fletcher invited questions and the following was put:

MOTION: Fred Fletcher/Reginald Whitaker Carried

That the report of the Director of OLIP be received.

11. Report: The Parliamentary Internships Programme

Michael Laslovitch presented Professor Jackson's regrets to the meeting. He was unable to attend but wished to recommend his annual report and to underline the continuing financial and academic soundness of PIP.

MOTION: Michael Laslovitch/Mary Powell Carried

That the report of the Director of PIP be received.

6. Report of the President

Professor Andrew, in introducing the motion of receipt of the report of the President, underlined the sections therein that referred to the important work on SSHRCC-related questions, to the most successful Africa Workshop and to the signing of the Agreement/Accord that marked the beginning of a new era of relations with La Société québécoise de Science politique. She also noted the appointment of André Blais as Associate Editor of Canadian Public Policy. She concluded by calling to the member's attention the recent establishment of a Committee to review the Constitution and said that she was here giving informal notice of motion because the recommendations of that committee would no doubt be the subject of discussion at the 1985 Annual General Meeting.

With warm thanks to the Secretariat she introduced the following:

MOTION: Caroline Andrew/ Edwin R. Black Carried

That the Report of the President be received.

7. Introduction of President Kal Holsti

The ceremonial tankard was passed from President Andrew to President Holsti. Professor Andrew expressed her warm satisfaction in the kind of leadership that was now guaranteed to the Association.

Professor Holsti noted the difficulty of succession when the precedent was of such high standard and drew to the attention of the meeting that he was, in fact, breaking up what had been a singular achievement, the 1983/84 leadership having underlined the Association's will to put theory into practice. In that year, for the first time, the Association had a woman both as President and as Secretary-Treasurer.

President Holsti asked to be excused for introducing a personal note. He observed that had had the privilege of having had President Andrew in a class at the University of British Columbia that had been an outstanding one and which had included at least one other current Board member and he noted that his institution had a proud tradition of playing a strong role in the life of the Association. It could claim outgoing Past-President Edwin R. Black and, indeed, former Presidents such as Jean Laponce and Donald V. Smiley as persons whose scholarly roots were very much tied up with UBC.

MOTION: Kal Holsti/Seconded by the warm applause of the meeting. Carried

That the Association express deep thanks and appreciation to Caroline Andrew for advancing the interests of political science both within the profession and in the larger community.

Professor Holsti concluded by expressing thanks to the other person who was today leaving the Executive, and that was out-going Past-President Edwin R. Black. Ed Black, he said, never steps from view. He had been an extraordinarily valuable member of the Executive during the three years that he had served there and could always and would continue to be counted on for wise advice on a broad range of important issues.

8. Report: The Secretary-Treasurer

In the absence of the Secretary-Treasurer Professor Andrew introduced the report. She spoke of the 5-year survey of the mail ballot procedure undertaken by Professor Jane Jenson (Carleton) and was pleased to report that the study indicated that the Board's concerns for rate of participation and for regional representation had both been allayed. Currently twice as many persons were voting as had ever done in the general assembly vote. The percentage of persons voting across the traditional regions (Atlantic provinces, Quebec, Ontario, prairie region, UBC) followed very closely the percentage of membership in those regions and, in fact, tended slightly to exceed it the more distant ones. Professor Andrew also noted that the Board and the Constitutional Committee were now looking at finding another means of ensuring the neutrality of the receipt-of-ballot process that would not entail the cost of feeing an outside scrutineer.

Professor Holsti spoke briefly of travel grants policy, reminding members that travel funds are guaranteed to no person, reminding of the formula application process advertised in The Journal of each September and urging attention to the procedures and deadlines outlined there.

Professor Andrew now called on Professor Reg Whitaker (York) who spoke to the 1983 Financial Report. He noted that the deficit was precisely as the Finance Committee had planned and indicated how the implementation of the Wilson Report would now affect the situation so that there would be a decrease in the accumulated deficit over the next years. He mentioned particularly the Secretary-Treasurer's recommendation to abolish the honorarium attached to her function, and the decrease in person-hours at the Secretariat (to be accomplished through a return of a number of functions to the volunteer sector) as examples of the sorts of economies that would enable the Association to proceed to reduce the deficit.

MOTION: Reg Whitaker/Edwin R. Black Carried

That the Report of the Secretary-Treasurer be received.

MOTION: Reg Whitaker/Caroline Andrew Carried

That the Association reappoint McCay-Duff and Company as auditors for 1984/85.

9. Report: The Canadian Journal of Political Science

Professor John Courtney spoke to the annual report as it appeared in "The Bulletin". He noted that there had been more manuscripts submitted this last year in English and French but pointed out that the significant increase was in French-language manuscripts, which had actually doubled. The number of published pieces was now one in four.

Professor Courtney introduced the new English-language editorial team, Professor Robert Boardman, Professor Herman Bakvis (Dalhousie) and Professor Grace Skogstad (St. Francis-Xavier) and, noting the presence of Professors Jean Crête, Duff Spafford and David Smith, invited questions to any part of The Journal's function.

MOTION: John Courtney/John Trent Carried

That the Report of The Canadian Journal of Political Science be received.

Professor John McMenemy (Wilfrid Laurier) and Managing Editor of The Journal now rose to say that the health and vitality of the community of scholars was to be measured by the health and vitality of its journal and that the production of a fine journal was the most important task of an association. He put the following:

MOTION: John McMenemy/seconded by the warm applause of the members Carried

That the Association expresses its sincere gratitude and thanks to Professor John Courtney.

Duff Spafford and David Smith (Saskatoon) for their extraordinary service to The Journal and through it to the political science community.

12. Report: Canadian Public Policy

Professor André Bernard, political science member of the CPP Editorial Board, invited members to consider the discipline-co-sponsored journal as a vehicle for publication. He said that the number of published articles in that journal in political science is low, only 4 out of 50 submissions being currently from this discipline. He told members that increased submissions could favourably affect a balance that now weighed in favour of economists, accountants, lawyers and so on. He reminded members that political science was in fact well-represented at the Editorial Board of CPP. In addition to himself there had been Richard Schultz (McGill) who was the outgoing Associate Editor and who was, as was mentioned earlier, being replaced by Andre Blais.

MOTION: André Bernard/Caroline Andrew

That the Association congratulates Richard Schultz for an excellent term as Associate Editor of Canadian Public Policy.

Professor Holsti thanked Professor Bernard warmly saying that the Association had been aware of and most appreciated the work of Professor Bernard had long been doing at CPP.

13. Report: The Programme Chairperson

Programme Chairperson Michael Atkinson (McMaster) rose to tell the Assembly that the 1984 programme had involved the direct participation of over 300 persons. It had been made up of 84 sessions and the participation of women had met the Association norm of 13%. He had, he said, a great number of people to thank. In the first place there was Caroline Andrew. He thanked the 1983 Chairperson, Professor Ken Carty (UBC), and went on to say that the people who really did the work were the members of his committee: J. Patrick Kyba, André Bernard, Andrew Sancton, Geoff Weller, Carolyn Tuohy, Richard Price, Tom Lewis, Steven Bornstein, William Graff, Rianne Mahon, John Kirton. He especially noted the enormous task performed by the political theory head, Tom Lewis (McMaster).

MOTION: Michael Atkinson/Ken Carty Carried

That the Association thanks local representative Pat Kyba, his department, the University of Guelph and the Learned Societies organisation at that university for the excellent arrangements for the 1984 meetings.

Professor Atkinson closed by expressing his great pleasure in introducing his successor, Professor André Bernard (UQAM) who would chair the programme for the Meetings at the Université de Montréal in 1985.

14. Other

- i. Professor John Trent, Secretary-General of the IPSA, rose to speak. He noted Canada's continuing voluntary contribution, through the individual members of the Association, and expressed the thanks of his association. Canadian participation continued, he said, to be the second highest, after that of the U.S.A. and he hoped that that tradition would continue. One of the benefits he said would be the fact that indicators of disciplinary strength continued to include international profile. Participation in the 1985 Congress was good, continuing traditional norms at the programme committee level. There were, he said, still openings for participation at the July 15-20, 1985 meetings in Paris, particularly in the 40 research committees and study groups that are the intellectual heart of the IPSA. He reminded members that the U.S.A. would host the 1988 Congress.

Professor Trent invited Canadian political scientists to participate in the 1986 Symposium to be held in the early part of that year's Fall term at the University of Ottawa. The occasion would be the meeting of the IPSA Executive Committee there and the subject would be the renewal of political philosophy. A call would be forthcoming.

Professor Trent concluded by returning to the theme of Canadian participation at the IPSA, citing the important contribution that distinguished Canadian scholars like Jean Lapointe and John Meisel, to name two, had made over the years, and in those particular cases, to the association's journal.

- ii. Professor John Courtney rose to urge the President of the Association to contact the 3 national political parties to ask them to cooperate in furthering the research activities of Canadian political scientists by granting access to material housed in archives and to such party institutions as policy conferences and leadership conventions.
- iii. Professor Phil Resnick spoke to the meeting about the threat that was coming to post-secondary education from provincial governments and wondered if the incoming Board might not address the question of the use of EPF transfer payments. He would, he said, not frame this as a Motion but stressed that it was an urgent question.

15. Adjournment

MOTION: Patrick Kyba/Kenneth Carty Carried

That the meeting be adjourned.

WESTERN ASSOCIATION OF SOCIOLOGY AND ANTHROPOLOGY 1986 CONFERENCE

The 27th Annual Conference of WASA (the Western Association of Sociology and Anthropology) will be held in Thunder Bay, Ontario, February 13-15, 1986. The theme is "Social Relations in Resource Hinterlands." As is usual at WASA, there will be a number of plenaries and theme sessions relating to the theme but non-related sessions are most welcome. Persons wishing to organize sessions or who have papers or ideas for papers should contact: Dr. Jan Mayer, Department of Sociology, Lakehead University, Thunder Bay, Ontario, P7B 5E1.

CALL FOR PAPERS ATLANTIC PROVINCES POLITICAL STUDIES ASSOCIATION

The 1985 annual meeting of the A.P.P.S.A. will be held at Acadia University in Wolfville, Nova Scotia. The annual meeting will be on October 25-26 and will address the theme of "The Rise of Conservatism."

Those who wish to present a paper are invited to submit a proposal. Such papers could consider the theme from the perspective of Canadian or comparative politics, international relations, political philosophy, or public policy. Proposals for papers that do not focus upon the theme will also be considered.

Proposals should be sent by the end of June (and preferably earlier) to:

SPECIAL ISSUE OF THE CHESTERTON REVIEW

The Chesterton Review is publishing a special issue in May, 1985, devoted to the work of George Grant. The issue is being edited by Joan O'Donovan who is author of the recent book, George Grant and the Twilight of Justice published by the University of Toronto Press earlier this year. The issue includes the following articles about George Grant:

1. "The Battleground of Liberalism" by Joan E. O'Donovan.
2. "George Grant's Three Languages" by Frank K. Flinn.
3. "Justice in the Thought of George Grant" by David R. Heaven.
4. "Do George Grant and Martin Heidegger share a common Conservatism?" by James Reimer.
5. "The Consolations of Philosophy in George Grant" by Darrol Bryant.

The special George Grant issue is available for $8.00. This issue is approximately 140 pages and includes in addition to the articles listed above, a book review section, news and comments, letters, and some uncollected Chesterton essays. A special offer for new subscribers is this. The ordinary subscription rate is $15.00 per year (4 issues). By sending a cheque for $15.00, the new subscriber receives a one year subscription plus a free copy of the Grant special issue. JANET AJZENSTAT AWARDED THE 1985 JULES AND GABRIELLE LÉGER FELLOWSHIP

Janet Ajzenstat, of Hamilton, Ontario, has been awarded the 1985 Jules and Gabrielle Léger Fellowship. She is the first woman to win the award, given by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council for research and writing on the role and function of the Crown and the Governor General in a parliamentary democracy.

Dr. Ajzenstat will study the views of two French-Canadian political writers, Pierre Bédard and Étienne Parent, on the British 'monarchic' system of government established in the Canadas in the 19th century. In addition to increasing our understanding of the foundations of Canada's political institutions, she hopes to illuminate current debates about the Constitution, conditions for stable parliamentary government, and the place of the Cabinet. She argues that the monarchic system was meant to guard against the rise of a one-party government and ensure a continuing political opposition in Canada.

Dr. Ajzenstat graduated from the University of Toronto in 1959 with a B.A. in art and archaeology. She was awarded an M.A. in political science by McMaster University in 1972 and a Ph.D. in political economy by Toronto in 1979. She has published several major articles on Canadian political developments of the 19th century and recently held an SSHRC research grant and a postdoctoral fellowship for a study of the political thought of Lord Durham. Dr. Ajzenstat is currently lecturing part-time at McMaster on Canadian politics.

The Jules and Gabrielle Léger Fellowship was established in 1979 by the Government of Canada in honour of the former Governor-General and madame Léger. Administered by the SSHRC, it is awarded annually to a Canadian scholar. The fellowship has a value of $20,000, plus up to $5,000 for research and travel expenses.

CONFERENCE REPORT "THE PROVINCES AND FOREIGN POLICY"

A conference on "The Provinces and Foreign Policy" was held at the University of Alberta on March 28-30, 1985. The conference was co-sponsored by the Department of Political Science at the University of Alberta and the Research Programme of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. The programme included participants from universities in Canada and the United States, the private sector, the federal government and five of the provincial governments: Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Quebec and Newfoundland. The keynote address was given by the Honourable James Horsman, Minister of Federal and Inter-governmental Affairs, Government of Alberta. The sessions explored the interests and activities of the provinces in the international realm and the mechanisms by which provincial governments, alone or with Ottawa, have sought to further their interests abroad. Papers presented at the conference considered a variety of issues including provincial-federal interaction on foreign policy matters (Peyton Lyon and Chris Liebich, Carleton; Elliot Feldman, University Consortium for Research on North America; J. Peter Meekison, Alberta; and Lorne Clark, Department of External Affairs), trade policy with specific reference to the multilateral trade negotiations (Sean Riley, National Bank), energy trade (Larry Pratt, Alberta; Tom Keating, Alberta), fisheries and maritime boundaries (Marshall Conley, Acadia; Donald Barry, Calgary), environmental concerns (Don Munton, Canadian Institute of International Affairs; Robert Stein, Georgetown University). In addition, comparative perspectives were provided on Germany (Hans Michelmann, Saskatchewan) and Australia (Robert Williams, Waterloo). The papers and the commentaries which followed emphasized the range and significance of provincial interactions with foreign governments and the relevance of these activities for Canadian foreign policy and Canadian federalism. The proceedings of the conference are being produced and will be available in the near future from the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. The conference was funded by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council, the University of Alberta, the Government of Alberta, and the Department of External Affairs.

PROCES-VERBAL

ASSFMBLEE GENERALE ANNUELLE

L'Association canadienne de Science politique

Université de Guelph Les 10, 11 et 12 juin 1984

1. Mot de la présidente

La présidente, Caroline Andrew, souhaite la bienvenue aux participants.

Avant le début des délibérations et devant l'une des plus nombreuses assemblées qui soit venue ces dernières années entendre le Discours présidentiel et assister à la réunion générale subséquente, le professeur John Meisel (Queen's), ancien président de l'Association, a pris la parole pour exprimer le profond regret de l'Association à l'occasion du décès d'un membre distingué, le professeur Walter D. Young, de l'Université de Victoria, qui avait présidé l'Association il y a peu de temps.

MOTION: John Meisel/Edwin R. Black
Adopté à l'unanimité

L'Association canadienne de Science politique regrette profondément le décès de son ancien président, Walter D. Young, et en offrant ses condoléances à sa famille désire lui exprimer l'immense respect de ses membres pour la contribution vivifiante apportée par le prof. Young à la science politique canadienne.

L'Assemblée pleure également la mort de Roberta McKown (Alberta), et le prof. Meisel rappelle qu'une fondation a été créée en mémoire des prof. McKown et Young dans leurs universités respectives.

2. Adoption de l'ordre du jour

Il est convenu que les point 10 et 11 de l'ordre du jour soient insérés après le point 5.

MOTION: O.P. Dwivedi/Frederick C.
Englemann
Adopté

L'ordre du jour est adopté, moyennant les modifications précitées.

3. Adoption du procès-verbal de 1983

MOTION: P.J. Smith/Agar Adamson Adopté

Le procès-verbal de l'Assemblée annuelle de 1983 est adopté tel quel.

4. Points découlant du procès-verbal

Aucun.

5. Rapport du président du Comité des candidatures

Le prof. Holsti, président du Comité, donne lecture des résultats de l'élection des membres du Conseil d'administration, tenue en 1984:

Président-élu (par acclamation:
Frederick C. Englemann (Alberta)

Conseillers, Conseil d'administration:

Barry Cooper (Calgary)
Martha Fletcher (Gouvernement de l'Ontario)
Jean-Pierre Gaboury (Ottawa)

Alex Macleod (UQAM)
Harald von Riekhoff (Carleton)

Le prof. Holsti, appuyé par les applaudissements nourris de l'assemblée, félicite les nouveaux membres et exprime ses remerciements aux membres sortants: le président-sortant, Edwin R. Black, et les conseillers Jean-Guy Finn, Roger Gibbins, William P. Irvine, Liisa North et Reg. Whitaker.

10. Rapport: Programme ontarien des stages parlementaires (OLIP)

Le prof. Fred Fletcher (York), directeur de l'OLIP, présente à l'assemblée son rapport annuel, publié dans "The Bulletin". Il souligne le bon fonctionnement du programme et remercie particulièrement ses collègues d'avoir encouragé de bons étudiants à faire des demandes de stage et de les avoir recommandés par écrit, contribuant ainsi à la grande qualité des candidats et à la bonne marche du programme. Le prof. Fletcher souligne tout particulièrement l'importante contribution de Barbara Cameron (York) à la campagne de souscription dans le secteur privé. Il annonce que Graham White s'est joint récemment au corps enseignant de l'Université de Toronto; il le remercie d'avoir apporté son aide et son appui au programme alors qu'il travaillait à la Législature, et souhaite qu'il puisse continuer à le faire. Le prof. Fletcher conclut par une période de questions. La motion suivante est présentée:

MOTION: Fred Fletcher/Reginald Whitaker
Adopté
Le rapport du Directeur de l'OLIP est reçu

11. Rapport: Programme des stages parlementaires (PIP)

Michael Laslovitch présente les excuses du prof. Jackson qui a dû s'absenter. Le prof. Laslovitch, au nom de ce dernier, souhaite que son rapport annuel soit reçu et fait remarquer la santé financière du PIP et sa grande qualité académique

MOTION: Michael Laslovith/Mary Powell
Adopté

Le rapport du directeur du PIP est reçu.

6. Rapport de la présidente

Le prof. Andrew résume les sections de son rapport qui traitent de l'important travail accompli sur les questions reliées au CRSH, du succès de l'atelier sur l'Afrique et de la signature de l'Accord/Agreement marquant le début d'une nouvelle ère de relations avec la Société québécoise de Science politique. Elle annonce la nomination d'André Blais au poste de rédacteur associé de la revue Analyse de politiques, et finalement, elle attire l'attention des membres sur la création d'un comité pour étudier la Charte de l'Association et donne ici avis officiel de motion, étant donné que les recommandations du comité feront nul doute l'objet de discussions à l'Assemblée annuelle de 1985.

La présidente remercie chaleureusement le Secrétariat, et présente la motion suivante:

MOTION: Caroline Andrew/Edwin R. Black
Adopté

Le rapport de la présidente est reçu.

7. Intronisation du président Kal Holsti

La présidente Andrew remet la chope cérémoniale au président Holsti. Elle se dit heureuse de savoir que la direction de l'Association sera entre bonnes mains.

Le prof. Hosti déclare qu'il est difficile de prendre la succession, lorsque son prédécesseur est de si grande qualité, et il fait remarquer à l'Assemblée que l'Association, en 1983/84, a mis la théorie en pratique en étant dirigée pour la première fois par une femme aux deux postes de présidente et de secrétaire-trésorière. Il regrette de mettre fin à cet accomplissement en devenant président.

Le président Holsti demande ensuite qu'on veuille bien lui pardonner de faire un commentaire personnel. Il explique qu'il a eu le privilège d'enseigner à la présidente Andrew à l'Université de la Colombie-Britannique, dans une classe exceptionnelle, dans laquelle se trouvait aussi au moins un autre membre du Conseil d'administration actuel. Il ajoute que cette université peut être fière d'avoir par tradition joué un important rôle dans l'histoire de l'Association. En effet, dit-il, elle compte également parmi ses anciens étudiants l'ancien président-sortant Edwin R. Black, ainsi que des personnes dont les souches universitaires remontent à l'UBC, comme les anciens présidents Jean Laponce et Donald V. Smiley.

MOTION: Kal Holsti/appuyé des applaudissements chaleureux de l'assemblée

L'Association exprime sa profonde gratitude et son appréciation à Caroline Andrew, pour avoir fait progresser la science politique dans la profession et dans la communauté plus large.

Le prof. Holsti conclut en remerciant un autre membre qui quitte aujourd'hui le Conseil exécutif, l'ancien président-sortant, Edwin R. Black. Mais, dit-il, on ne perd jamais de vue un homme de la trempe d'Ed Black. Il a été un membre extrêmement important du Conseil exécutif durant ses trois années de service, et l'Association continuera à faire appel à ses sages conseils sur nombre de questions importantes.

8. Rapport de la secrétaire-trésorière

La secrétaire-trésorière étant absente, le prof. Andrew présente le rapport en son nom. Elle explique que l'enquête de cinq ans menée par le prof. Jane Jenson (Carleton) sur le scrutin postal a dissipé les inquiétudes du Conseil quant au taux de participation ainsi que de représentation régionale. En effet, il y a maintenant deux fois plus de membres qui votent. Le pourcentage des votes dans les régions (Atlantique, Québec, Ontario, Prairies, C.-B.) correspond presque au pourcentage des membres en provenance de ces régions et même, dans les régions les plus éloignées, tend à être légèrement plus élevé que la moyenne. Le prof. Andrew fait également remarquer que le Conseil d'administration et le Comité des Statuts cherchaient d'autres moyens de garantir la neutralité du processus de réception des bulletins de vote sans avoir à payer un scrutateur de l'extérieur.

Le prof. Holsti parle brièvement des subventions de voyage et rappelle aux membres qu'il n'est jamais garanti à personne de recevoir des fonds. Il rappelle également le processus d'application de la formule, annoncé dans La Revue chaque année en septembre, et demande aux membres de porter une attention particulière aux procédures et aux échéances qui y sont énoncées.

Le prof. Andrew demande au prof. Reg Whitaker (York) de commenter le rapport financier de 1983. Il souligne que le déficit est exactement tel que prévu par le Comité des finances et explique comment la mise en oeuvre du rapport Wilson réduirait au cours des prochaines années le déficit accumulé. Il souligne plus particulièrement la recommandation de la secrétaire-trésorière visant à éliminer les honoraires rattachés à sa fonction, et la réduction du nombre des heures-personnes au Secrétariat (qui sera effectuée en redonnant certaines tâches au secteur bénévole) comme exemples des économies qui permettront de réduire le déficit de l'Association.

MOTION: Reg Whitaker/Edwin R. Black
Adopté

Le rapport de la secrétaire-trésorière est reçu.

MOTION: Reg Whitaker/Caroline Andrew
Adopté

La firme McCay Duff and Company est de nouveau nommée vérificatrice pour 1984/85.

9. Rapport: La Revue canadienne de science politique

Le prof. John Courtney présente le rapport qui a été publié dans "The Bulletin", distribué aux membres. Il fait remarquer l'augmentation du nombre des manuscrits reçus l'année dernière en anglais et en français, ces derniers ayant de fait doublé. On publie actuellement un manuscrit sur quatre.

Le prof. Courtney présente le nouveau comité de rédaction (anglais), composé des prof. Robert Boardman, Herman Bakvis (Dalhousie) et Grace Skogstas (St. Francis-Xavier), et souligne la présence des prof. Jean Crête, Duff Spafford et David Smith. Il invite ensuite les membres à lui poser des questions sur la fonction de La Revue.

MOTION: John Courtney/John Trent Adopté

Le rapport de La Revue canadienne de science politique est reçu.

Le prof. John McMenemy (Wilfrid Laurier), directeur de gestion de La Revue, intervient pour dire que la santé et la vitalité d'une communauté scientifique se mesure à la santé et la vitalité de sa revue et que la production d'une revue d'une grande qualité constitue l'activité la plus importante d'une association. Il présente la motion suivante:

MOTION: John McMenemy/appuyé des applaudissements chaleureux de l'Assemblée
Adopté

L'Association exprime sa sincère gratitude et ses remerciements aux prof. John Courtney, Duff Spafford et David Smith (Saskatoon) pour leur contribution extraordinaire à La Revue et par là même, à toute la communauté des politologues.

12. Rapport: Analyse de politiques

Le prof. André Bernard, représentant la science politique au Conseil de rédaction d'AP, invite les membres à ne pas oublier que cette revue, co-parrainée par plusieurs disciplines, peut être un véhicule de publication. Il ajoute que le nombre d'articles publiés actuellement dans cette revue en science politique, est très bas, 4 manuscrits seulement sur 50 reçus étant en science politique. Si davantage de manuscrits étaient présentés dans notre discipline, cela pourrait modifier la balance, qui pour l'instant penche davantage en faveur des économistes, des comptables, des avocats, et ainsi de suite. Il rappelle aux membres que la science politique continuera à être bien représentée au Conseil de rédaction d'AP puisque Richard Schultz (McGill) qui termine son mandat de rédacteur associé, sera remplacé, comme nous l'avons dit plus tôt, par André Blais.

MOTION: André Bernard/Caroline Andrew
Adopté

L'Association félicite Richard Schultz de son excellent travail durant son mandat de rédacteur associé d'Analyse de politiques.

Le prof. Holsti remercie chaleureusement le prof. Bernard au nom de l'Association, laquelle, dit-il, reconnaît et apprécie grandement son travail de longue haleine auprès d'AP. Le prof. Bernard encourage à nouveau les membres à faire l'effort qui permettra à cette revue d'être un instrument efficace pour promouvoir la science politique au Canada.

13. Rapport du président du Comité du programme

Le président du Comité du programme, Michael Atkinson (McMaster), explique aux membres que le programme de 1984 a engagé la participation directe de plus de 300 personnes et a comporté 84 sessions, et que la participation des femmes a atteint la norme fixée par l'Association, soit 13%. Il dit avoir beaucoup de gens à remercier. D'abord, Caroline Andrew, à qui il est reconnaissant d'avoir eu foi en ses capacités de bien s'acquitter de la tâche. Également, le président du Comité du programme de 1983, le prof. Ken Carty (UBC), pour avoir si bien donné l'exemple. Ensuite, dit-il, ceux et celles qui ont vraiment fait le travail, c'est-à-dire les membres de son comité: J. Patrick Kyba, André Bernard, Andrew Sancton, Geoff Weller, Carolyn Tuohi, Richard Price, Tom Lewis, Steven Bornstein, William Graff, Rianne Mahon, John Kirton. Il souligne également la tâche monumentale abattue par le chef de la section de l'analyse politique, Tom Lewis (McMaster).

MOTION: Michael Atkinson/Ken Carty
Adopté

Que l'Association remercie le représentant local Pat Kyba, son département, l'Université de Guelph et les organisateurs des Sociétés savantes de cette université, pour leur excellent travail d'organisation des réunions de 1984.

Le prof. Atkinson conclut en représentant avec grand plaisir son successeur, le prof. André Bernard (UQAM), qui présidera le Comité du programme pour les réunions de 1985, à l'Université de Montréal.

Le prof. Bernard entame son mandat en remerciant le prof. Atkinson, sous les applaudissements de l'assemblée. Il ajoute ensuite qu'il est à composer son comité, et invite les membres à remplir le questionnaire qui se trouve dans le bulletin, au pupitre de l'Association aux présentes réunions, et dans les départements. Il conclut en invitant tous les membres à l'Université de Montréal, les 31 mai, 1^{er} et 2 juin 1985.

14. Divers

- i. Le prof. John Trent, secrétaire-général de l'AISP, souligne que le Canada continue à verser sa contribution volontaire, par l'entremise des membres individuels de l'Association, et il exprime la gratitude de l'AISP. La participation du Canada, dit-il, continue à être la deuxième plus élevée, après celle des E.-U., et il espère que cette tradition se poursuivra. Un des avantages, dit-il, sera que les indicateurs de santé de la discipline au Canada pourront continuer à comporter une dimension internationale. Il y a déjà évidence d'une grande participation au Congrès qui aura lieu à Paris (du 15 au 20 juillet, 1985) maintenant ainsi les normes traditionnelles au niveau du comité du programme. Des places sont encore disponibles surtout dans les 40 comités de recherche et groupes d'étude qui sont le cœur intellectuel de l'AISP. Il rappelle aux membres que le Congrès de 1983 se tiendra aux Etats-Unis.

Le prof. Trent invite les politicologues canadiens à participer au Symposium de 1986, qui aura lieu au début du semestre d'automne à l'Université d'Ottawa, à l'occasion de la réunion du Comité exécutif de l'AISP, sous le thème du renouveau de la philosophie politique. Une annonce officielle paraîtra sous peu.

Le prof. Trent conclut en reprenant le thème de la participation canadienne à l'AISP, soulignant la contribution importante de collègues canadiens distingués, dont Jean Laponce et John Meisel, pour n'en citer que deux, ces derniers ayant contribué à la revue de l'Association.

- ii) Le prof. John Courtney presse le président de l'Association de communiquer avec les trois grands partis politiques fédéraux, pour leur demander de contribuer à promouvoir les activités des chercheurs canadiens, en leur donnant accès à des documents d'archives et aux institutions des partis, telles les conférences d'orientation et les congrès au leadership.

iii) Le prof. Phil Resnick s'adresse à l'Assemblée pour souligner la menace imminente que posent les gouvernements provinciaux à l'enseignement postsecondaire et il se demande si le prochain Conseil ne pourrait pas se pencher sur la question de l'utilisation des transferts de fonds en vertu du financement des programmes établis (FPE). Il ne formule pas de résolution, mais presse le Conseil d'examiner la question de toute urgence.

15. Clôture de la séance

MOTION: Patrick Kyba/Kenneth Carty
Adopté

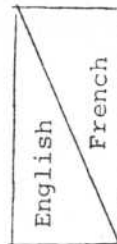

La séance est levée.
